A list of all the Nautilus International lawyers around the world

NAUTILUS
INTERNATIONAL

To Nautilus International Appointed Lawyers (Outside the United Kingdom and the Netherlands)

Dear Sirs,

Nautilus offers a worldwide legal service to full current members should they find themselves in professional employment related difficulties requiring legal advice.

As a Nautilus appointed lawyer, I would appreciate you providing this member every assistance should he/she be involved in any inquiry into a marine casualty.

You are authorised to arrange initial representation to defend his/her interests at such an inquiry.

You are authorised to incur costs not exceeding £2,400 GBP (or equivalent in local currency) but in any event, you should please inform me immediately either by telephone, email or fax at the address on the rear cover of this booklet, that you have been approached and have taken on a case. Authority from Nautilus will be required for any expenditure above the £2,400 limit referred to.

Before any advice and/or assistance is rendered, I would ask you to check the individual's Nautilus membership card to confirm that he/she is a full current member of this Union.

If the problem is other than one involving a marine casualty or inquiry (or is difficult to define), please contact either myself or the director of legal services immediately at this office for instructions.

Please quote the member's Nautilus membership number in all communications.

I thank you in anticipation of your assistance.

Yours faithfully,

Mark Dickinson
General Secretary

Andrew Oliver, Solicitor at Andrew Jackson lawyers

has worked on many maritime legal cases and has compiled some guidance for members when facing an investigation. A report into criminalisation and further advice is available from Nautilus International via www.nautilusint.org.

- 1 contact Nautilus' legal department immediately and before making a statement (if possible)
- 2 cooperate with the authorities as far as you are able but do not incriminate yourself
- 3 be prepared to take time out if necessary
- 4 at all times seek independent legal or technical advice if you are unsure of the situation

5 never be afraid to politely ask any official what their powers are and the purpose of the investigation

6 if you find yourself in a situation where it may look as though somebody suspects you of a criminal offence then seek immediate legal advice so that you do not prejudice your position

No attempt should ever be made to provide false information to investigating authorities nor should documents onboard a vessel be 'lost' or 'destroyed' as such actions could at best result in a prosecution for obstructing the authorities and at worst result in a conviction for perverting the course of justice.

If in doubt contact Nautilus and take advice.
